One of the most important law suits in which the village of Wellington has been interested for some time was heard Monday in Common Pleas court before Judge Nye. The suit involves the ownership to the open sewers running east along the Big Four tracks from North Main street, and which drains the whole of the southern part of Wellington. The city has had undisputed possession of the ditch for half a century, but this summer, when an attempt was made to clean it out, the railroad company, coveting the property, secured a temporary injunction, which it now attempts to make perpetual. The case will be argued Saturday. If the railroad company wins it may mean a great hardship to the city. As it is, the suit has prevented the cleaning of the ditch in time to take care of the heavy sewage that may be expected with the spring rains.

THE EXTESPRISE is indebted to County Commissioner A. B. Hayes for a correction to a statement made in this paper last week, when it was claimed that a certain sum of money was in the county treasury to be spent for stone roads. The information seemed reliable, as it came from a township official, but it seems that there was a misunderstanding on his part, for while the lavy was made last June, the tax will not be collected until December. Mr. Hayes says in regard to the matter:

"In June last a levy of 1 4-10 mills was made for the purpose of making permanent roads. A part of that levy will be collected in December, and the balance next June, but no part of that money will be distributed and available for road building until the latter part of February, which, of course, is a season of the year when ordinarily such work cannot be done. I can assure you that the intention of the commissioners is to prosecute this work vigorously as soon as practicable, if there is any money in the treasury to do the work with."

ASK YOUR DOCTOR!

Ask your physician this question, "What is the one great remedy for consumption?" He will answer, "Cod-liver oil." Nine out of ten will answer the same way.

Yet when persons have consumption they loathe all fatty foods, yet fat is neces-sary for their recovery and they cannot take plain codliver oil. The plain oil disturbs the stomach and takes away the appetite. The disagreeable fishy odor and taste make it almost unendurable. What is to be done?

This question was answered when we first made of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Although that was nearly twenty-five years ago, yet it stands alone today the one great remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs. The bad taste and odor have been taken away, the oil itself has been partly digested, and the most sensitive stomach objects to it rarely. Not one in ten can take and digest the plain oil. Nine out of ten can take SCOTT'S EMULSION and digest it. That's why it cures so many cases of early consumption. Even in advanced cases it brings comfort and greatly prolongs life. The Adirondack region abounds with streams, most of which can some time be made use of as sources of power for carrying on industries, running railroads and furnishing light and heat. andeed, the great problem at present is not at all to find available heads of water, but to devise means of transmitting the power with the minimum loss for long distances.

It is impossible to believe that with day. the success of existing plants and the spectacle of practically unlimited power going to waste on every hand, to stimulate inventive genius, methods will not be devised before very long for overcoming this difficulty of trans-

Whether it is by the discovery of some new conveyor or by using a succession of generating plants or by a process of storing the electricity and conveying it by freight or express or however, the new power is bound in time to come into practically universal use. If the difficulty of transmission is never wholly obvious, it may be there will be some regrouping of industries and communities in the near vicinity of important sources of water supply.-Gunton's Magazine

A reflection not altogether without value to such feminine scribes as have not yet found their public is contained in a remark made at a recent dinner in London, where 200 literary women met one another. Says the London Out-

Things to Remember. Never forget that women are made out of girls and that men are made out of boys; that if you are a worthless girl you are a worthless woman, and if you are a worthless boy you will be a worthless man, and the best educated men and women once did not know "A. B, C;" that all the things which you are learning had to be learned by them; that the efforts spent in making others happy will in some way add to your own happiness; that a worth many times more than a life of
